Green Lands Blue Waters was honored to bring our community of continuous living cover (CLC) agricultural enthusiasts together again! Ag practitioners came together in a peer-rich environment with timely educational opportunities, lively dialogue, and networking time. This conference was intentionally designed to balance information delivery with engaged working time and peer connections across a diverse, multi-sector mix of researchers, technical service providers, students, farmers, and advocates committed to actualizing CLC on the Midwest landscape. Our intention was to gather to support one another in cooperation, possibility, and positivity.
